Disclaimer

This presentation has been prepared by Bank Millennium for its stakeholders for information purpose only. The information presented in this presentation should be read together with other information published by the Bank (on www.bankmillennium.pl), in particular financial and current reports.

Financial data presented hereby is on consolidated Bank Millennium Group level. Financial data is based on management accounts, hence it may differ from this presented in reported financial statements.

In its 6M25 financial statements, the Bank introduced some changes in presentation of financial data in order to better reflect the economic substance of the presented items, taking into account current market practice. In particular, a dedicated line item “Legal risk costs related to foreign currency mortgage loans” has been introduced. This item includes not only the costs of provisions previously presented under ‘Provisions for legal risk related to foreign currency mortgage loans’ and included amounts related to the recognized adjustment of the gross carrying amount of foreign currency loans as well as amounts recorded under the ‘Provisions’ line item, but also period costs related to settlements concluded on the Bank’s terms (previously included in ‘Net trading income’), costs of settlements concluded under KNF terms (previously presented as ‘Modification result’), as well as legal representation costs and statutory interest (previously included in ‘Other operating expenses’).

In the financial year ended 31 December 2025, the Bank introduced a change in the method of calculating the effective interest rate (EIR) applied to the measurement of mortgage loans with periodically fixed interest rates. The purpose of the introduced change was to ensure a better reflection of the economic substance of the transactions and to enhance consistency between the accounting approach and the interest rate risk management framework, as well as the methodologies applied within the BCP Group

This presentation should not be treated as a recommendation to purchase securities, an offer, invitation or a solicitation of an offer to purchase, invest or conclude any transaction on securities, in particular with respect to securities of Bank Millennium.

Capital adequacy ratios at very comfortable surplus following AT1 issue

Group capital ratios

Key points

- Capital ratios increased strongly in 1Q26 (consolidated TCR at 17.6%, T1 at 16.4%). Positive impact of PLN1.5bn bn AT1 issue in January'26 and inclusion of 2H25 net profit was well above the business use of capital (growth in RWAs) and temporary negative impact of revaluation reserve.
- Already solid capital buffers widened further. Surplus at consolidated T1 level at 6.7 p.p. and 5.9 p.p. at TCR more than comfortable to accommodate strong growth of RWAs and further 1 p.p. increase of CCyB in September'26.

Customer needs at the forefront

Parents

From January, customers can easily send transfers between own account and child's account via the app. These changes apply to current and savings accounts. We have also introduced a new feature to the online process for opening a Konto 360° Junior account – parents no longer need to provide their child's phone number. This makes things easier for parents of younger children who do not have their own smartphone.

Family 800+ applications submitted via mobile app

Micro-Business

In 1Q26, we introduced several important improvements for our Business customers. Customers applying for a loan can now remotely consent to a risk assessment. We have also made it possible for EU and Ukrainian citizens to open a business account, and added the option to update company details via the mobile app. Customers can change their company's short name, address and contact details in the app.

Secure and user-friendly mobile app

- ✓ A revamped menu for managing transfer recipients, featuring new functions and additional security measures for transfers.
- ✓ The option to quickly top up data packages in the eSIM purchase service. The new package is activated automatically once the previous one has been used up.

We implement solutions that promote cross-channel synergy

✓ Online meetings

We have launched a pilot phase in our mobile app and on Millenet, enabling customers to video chat with a bank expert. This solution marks a completely new chapter in customer support via digital channels.

✓ Personal details update

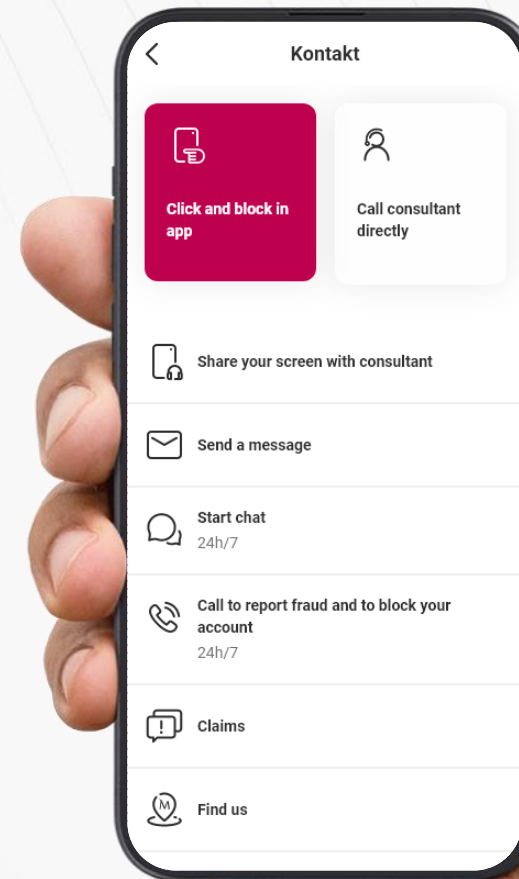

We improve a process for updating personal data in the app. Customers whose profile details are incomplete can fill in the gaps in a single step. Since December 2025, users have made 204,000 changes to their data in the app, representing more than a twofold increase following the update to this process in 4Q 2025.

✓ Cobrowsing

We have added the option to share screen whilst speaking to a bank consultant – a feature previously available to customers only via Millenet. This solution ensures complete convenience and security for users: a bank employee can only highlight fields on the screen, but cannot perform any actions on the customer's behalf.

✓ Account balance certificate

Customers can generate and download a statement with the account balance themselves via the mobile app. This is another process that has been launched in the app as part of the orchestration project. Customers can manage simple matters without having to visit a branch, whilst consultants are freed up to deal with non-standard requests.

Data from the Polish economy *

% y/y

- Positive expectations for the economy in 2026 were disrupted by the outbreak of a conflict in the Middle East at the end of February. The attack by Israel and the United States on Iran led to the closure of the Strait of Hormuz - a key route for global trade in energy commodities and chemical products. However, the scale of the shock in the oil and natural gas markets was smaller than after the outbreak of the war in Ukraine, and the zloty did not weaken significantly.
- CPI inflation fell to 2.1% y/y in January and February from 2.4% y/y in December 2025. However, rising fuel prices after the escalation of the Gulf conflict pushed inflation up to 3.0% y/y in March, prompting the MPC to keep interest rates unchanged in April.

- Despite rising fuel prices and deteriorating sentiment, geopolitical tensions did not cause significant disruptions to Poland's current economic activity in March and April. However, GDP growth in 1Q26 turned out to be slower than expected. This was mainly due to an exceptionally severe winter, which in January and February led to a sharp decline in construction and assembly output as well as industrial production. According to the Bank's estimates, GDP growth slowed to ca. 3.6% y/y from 4.1% y/y in 4Q25.

- The weaker-than-expected economic growth at the beginning of 2026 is unlikely to be fully made up in subsequent quarters. Nevertheless, the overall picture of the domestic economy, which shows many signs of balance, remains largely unchanged.
- Expectations of increased investment supported by the implementation of projects co-financed with EU funds remain valid. Households' consumption should continue to provide significant support to GDP, despite anticipated higher inflation. Consumption will be supported by relatively low unemployment and rising real wages. According to the Bank's forecast, GDP growth in 2026 will amount to ca. 3.6%, similar to 2025.

- The conflict in the Middle East increases uncertainty regarding the outlook for both the Polish and the global economy. At the current stage of the conflict, disruptions in energy commodity markets should not lead to a significant deterioration in the prospects for the Polish economy.
- The conflict in the Middle East worsens the short-term inflation outlook due to lasting damage to energy infrastructure and elevated transport costs. Persistently high fuel prices may spill over into prices of other goods and services. As a result, CPI inflation in 2026 is expected to be higher than the pre-conflict forecast. In such conditions, the MPC is likely to stabilise interest rates.

EURIBOR 3M and market expectations

WIBOR 3M and market expectations

• After a few months of gradual appreciation and decline in FX rate volatility the zloty weakened vs. the euro in 1Q26. The EURPLN rate remained stable at the start of the year temporarily falling below 4.20 but jumped to 4.30 on breakout of US-Iran war. The zloty recovered to ca. 4.25 after ceasefire in early April. The dollar appreciated against the euro throughout the quarter amid higher risk aversion though in April it returned to levels from end of 2025 ca. 1.18 after deescalation of Middle East tensions, which will remain essential for FX prospects. Bank expects stable EURPLN rate in 4.2-4.3 range.

• In 1Q26 the MPC cut interest rates by 25 bp to 3.75% taking into account past downward surprises in CPI data and despite the ongoing tensions in the Middle East. In April MPC kept rates unchanged signaling that in the following months the monetary policy parameters could remain unchanged. In 1Q26 swap rates increased by 60-90 bp, while in April the declined by 30 bp. Markets priced out rates cuts in the major markets and in Poland and price in accelerated rate hikes in the euro area. The bank assumes a gradual decline in yields.

Newly granted loans

- As of the end of Feb'26, the value of deposits was around PLN 17 billion higher than at the end of 2025. On a year on year basis, this translated into stable growth of 9.4% y/y, compared with 9.5% y/y in Dec'25. The increase was observed both in household deposits (+8.1% y/y) and in deposits of non financial corporations, which continued to record double digit growth (+11.8% y/y). The strong inflow of corporate deposits supported the maintenance of very high liquidity in the corporate sector.
- At the end of Feb'26, the annual growth rate of the loan portfolio reached 7.1% y/y, marking a further acceleration compared with the end of 2025. The main driver of this growth remained loans to non financial corporations, which increased by 10.2% y/y in Feb'26. Household loans grew more slowly, recording growth of 4.8% y/y.

- The beginning of 2026 brought a decline in the value of newly granted loans compared with the 4Q25. This affected both loans to households, including consumer and housing loans, as well as loans to non-financial corporations.

Carbon footprint calculator for companies

Bank Millennium has launched a free carbon footprint calculator for companies. The tool enables companies to calculate their greenhouse gas emissions, organise environmental data related to energy, fuel, or raw material consumption, and prepare a report in line with emission-reduction recommendations and a decarbonisation plan. The calculator was developed in cooperation with the Climate & Strategy Foundation.

The Millennium Eco-Index – Regional Eco-Innovation Potential

Bank Millennium has published the latest edition of the Millennium Eco Index – Regional Eco Innovation Potential report. It is an original project by Bank Millennium, developed in cooperation with substantive partners: the AGH University of Science and Technology in Kraków, the Warsaw School of Economics and the Polish Patent Office. The report analyses the eco-innovation potential of Poland's voivodeships.

35th Anniversary of the Bank Millennium Foundation

In December, the Bank Millennium Foundation celebrated its 35th anniversary. For nearly four decades, it has consistently pursued its mission of strengthening social capital by engaging in projects that support culture, employee volunteering, and financial education.

The Our People'25 Employee Volunteering Programme

This year's the Our People'25 employee volunteering programme of the Bank Millennium Foundation concluded with a record-breaking result. Employee volunteers carried out a total of 54 support projects across Poland, engaging in initiatives focused on education, environmental protection, support for seniors, assistance to those in need, animal care, as well as safety and health.

The most important awards and achievements of Bank Millennium in 1Q26

Bank Millennium named Golden Bank 2026

Bank Millennium won the Golden Banker 2026 ranking, winning the Golden Bank 2026 title for the best multi-channel service quality.
